The History of the Class of 1932

The Cine-Kodak Film of a Member of the Class of '32

SETTING—A dreary, rainy day, September 17, 1928. Saint Mary's in harmony with weather. New girls crying from lonesomeness. (Tears are dried the next day when school begins in earnest.)

REEL 1—Eighteen homesick, rather green Freshmen, who matriculated with Miss Holt the day before, now start on what seems to them an endless journey. But in a few days they are happy again. And why shouldn't they be? Think of the excitement of being elected to the Mu or Sigma Athletic Society and the E. A. P. or Sigma Lambda Literary Society, of electing Frances Haigh as our President, of going to the Hallowe'en party and Colonial Ball for the first time, of going home for Christmas and Spring Holidays and of singing to our much admired Seniors at the end of the year as we move down on the front steps to take the place of the Sophomores.

REEL 2—The September of 1929 finds only six of the class back. They have all grown a great deal and are no longer the green Freshmen of a year ago. Charlotte Winborne, Margaret Dey and Gertrude Mott join our ranks this year. Oh the joy of being Old Girls! We are the escorts to the Old Girl-New Girl party instead of the escorted. We have been a little blue about starting work again, but after this we feel better and enthusiastically elect Margaret Dey as our President and Miss Bohannon our adviser. Under their guidance we pass a happy year enjoying the Colonial Ball and Class parties just as much as the year before. We are very proud of having the seniors as our sister class and nothing gives us as much pleasure as the tea Miss Holt and Miss Albertson give the two classes together. The last scene shows us bidding our sister class good-bye and moving down to take the place of the Juniors.

REEL 3—There is an air of sophistication hovering over the next scene. The little Freshmen are now Juniors. Again there are only six of us back but our class is greatly enlarged by New Girls. Twenty-three of the members of the class of '32 come in this year. We elect one of the new girls, Caroline Dunn, as our new President and Miss Matthews as our adviser. What a husy and exciting time we have this year! There is English M. to keep us working hard but little that matters—we can go down town unchaperoned on Monday mornings and one other day during the week and, if we are very good, we can go visiting on Monday afternoons. Among other things we give a Hallowe'en Party. Our "Cave of Death" strikes terror into the hearts of the New Girls. We are to give a Senior-Junior banquet a little later so we sell hot dogs at this party to make a little money. The hot dog stand is quite a success because this is the only time during the year that the girls are not strictly forbidden to eat hot dogs. When we come back after Christmas the first thing we think of is the banquet. This is a big occasion for us. The Juniors the year before had theirs at the Carolina Hotel but we have ours at the Woman's Club. Imagine our excitement when Dr. Way permitted us to have an orchestra of boys—an unheard of wonder! Evening dresses are taken out for the first time since Christmas and girls run around trying to get someone—anyone—to help them with their toasts. This proves to be a great success much to the relief of "Carrie" and her helpers. As this reel ends the class has at last reached the bottom step. We are to be Seniors next year!

REEL 4—A dream realized. We are at last Seniors. It is quite thrilling for several of us because we have never been Seniors before. Rosabell Elliott is elected as our President and Miss Pope as our adviser. "Carrie" did so well the year before that she is elected as the President of the Student Body. We are delighted to find a new girl is entering our class. Jane Toms joins us. We feel awfully important—we can sign in the Senior Book when we go out instead of getting a slip from Miss Albertson—we can chaperone—we can sit in the back of the Chapel—and we are the first Senior Class to whom the privilege of "sleeping through" every Monday morning is granted. Christmas comes and we give a play "The Fairy Shoemaker," the night before we go home. When we come back there are exams to be taken but we pass and go happily on our way as before. The Sunday after exams Dr. and Mrs. Way give us a party. We have always envied the Seniors when they told us about the lovely time they have had and now we are the envied ones. After Spring Holidays comes the Senior Vaudeville and then the Junior-Senior Banquet at which we are the guests this time. We all have a wonderful time but it makes us realize that in a few weeks we shall leave our beloved Alma Mater never to return again as students.

Commencement—what a world of different feelings it brings. The Seniors are a little sad as they move off the steps singing "Goodbye School, We're Through" for the next day they are to get their diplomas and each must go her own way!

Class Poem

OUR ship has sailed on dangerous journey sent
To search for knowledge—not on pleasure bent.
Some find, in part, the treasure after toil,
But ne'er a one has captured all the spoil.

Our first brief pause is ended. Far behind
We leave the harbor, sheltered from the wind;
And on our way, alone, we go to fight,
No patient hands to steer our course aright.

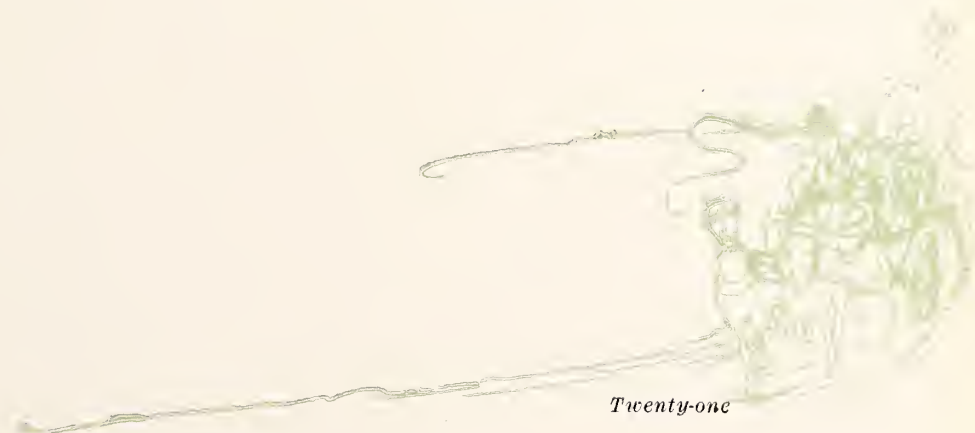

Yet what remains beyond the horizon?
What storms to brave, what blis'ring sun?
Can we endure the lot that's cast by fate,
And come to rest in brave, undaunted state?

Each one of us must steer a different course
In seas oft rough with sorrow and remorse.
Some few, successful, reach the journey's end.
They're lost who find the leak too late to mend.

Where'er we go, whatever we attain
Can never dim the mem'ry of the name,
Saint Mary's, dear to us for friendships won.
It stands before our eyes and beckons on.

And when we come, with sails full-furled to harbor,
We'll spend the passing moments, filled with fervor—
Rememb'ring each dear face of our first crew,
With sad sweet thoughts, the class of thirty-two.

GRACE BOWES.

Last Will and Testament

WE the Senior Class of '32, being about to close the gates of Saint Mary's behind us for the last time, wish to leave a few of our characteristics to the less fortunate underclassmen, trusting they will fully appreciate the honor thus conferred upon them.

We will Margaret Boney's position on the Altar Guild to Virginia Evans.

To Beatty Josephs, that croonin' gal, we will Grace Bowes' dancing ability.

Fannie Belle Bray's air of assurance goes to Virginia Evans.

Our Bonnie June's true blueness goes to Alice Alexander.

There is only one other beside Lib Davis who could get by with wearing three fraternity pins at once. So Dot Harper, here's luck to you!

Margaret Dey's partnership in the lavender ensemble goes to Jane Smoot.

Rosabelle Elliott's love for the Army and Navy goes to Nickie Musgrave.

Elizabeth Gantt's vocal ability goes to Florence Estelle Eagles.

Angileen Graham leaves to Gladys Hassell her veneer of sophistication.

Lucy Marshall's frequent corsages, specials, etc., go to Bessie Morton.

Marina Henry's gorgeous black top goes to Thelma Troxler.

We think Virginia Hoyle's quick temper should be left behind.

Katherine Jamieson's fragility we leave to Margaret Bugg.

Lillian Lucas's innumerable shirts and ties go to Helen Lebby.

Caroline Mann's constant presence at the various State dances goes to Margaret Hubbard.

Sarah Clay Paylor's amazing well kept coiffure we will to Lillian Johnstone.

Susan Stoker's most delightful aesthetic dancing goes to Almeda Stewart.

We will Jane Toms's chicness to Ellen Moore.

Mary Ellen Watts's insatiable desire to know all the school scandal goes to Patsy Hill.

Helene Willingham's meakness we bequeath to Sally Paine.

Wherever one goes one is asked the question, "Do you know Charlotte Winbourne?" Charlotte has kindly written the secret to her success out in a little blue book. We will this book to Edna Cummings.

Molly Winbourne's husky contralto voice, which is the envy of various young ladies, we will to Nell Tyler.

We will Sara Vann's surprising facility in English Class to Mary Hasselle.

Lucile Rux's habit of shrugging goes to Peggy Russell.

Elsa Rose gets the prize for "foxing" Mr. Guess.

Of Gertrude Mott's brilliance we donate to Barbara Scott at least a fourth.

Mary Parker's ability to pull the wool over Miss Holt's eyes goes to Evelyn Toffoli.

Forward, next student body president! We will to you Caroline Dunn's St. Mary's swagger.

To our three Heads: Dr. Way, Miss Albertson, and Miss Holt, we the ninetieth graduating class of St. Mary's School, give our unanimous thanks.

To Miss Pope, who has been our constant friend and adviser, we leave our undying appreciation and thanks.

VIRGINIA HOYLE, Lawyer.

Epilogue

*Shall we recall, when this year ends,
Our fun, our foolishness, our friends?
We've made this Stage Coach to convey
Our thoughts on memory's pleasant way;
And though it lacks magnificence
(For this year shudders at expense)
We hope our Stage Coach has indeed
Been able somehow to succeed.*

"The Convenient Place to Shop"

A STORE IS KNOWN BY ITS CUSTOMERS

Who shops there?

Answer that question about any store and you establish the position of that store in the community.

Today, as always, the representative women of the city instinctively turn to this store to satisfy their needs and gratify their tastes.

The store that attracts and holds the patronage of this intelligent, discriminating element is, obviously, the logical store for every shopper.

And remember—it costs no more to shop in good company!

which supply commodities to the royal family of England today hold warrants permitting them to use the royal crest on their windows, stationery and labels. They are located in nearly every country in the world and make everything from wine corks to horse millinery and elephant trappings, and are appointed because of the excellence of their products.

While we enjoy no appointment by virtue of royal decree, certainly in the matter of electric service no King, Queen, Prince or Princess could have better than that available to every American man, woman and child in home, office, factory, school, theatre—anywhere and everywhere transmission and distribution lines reach.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to interpret the ideas of the Staff and create in material form their vision.

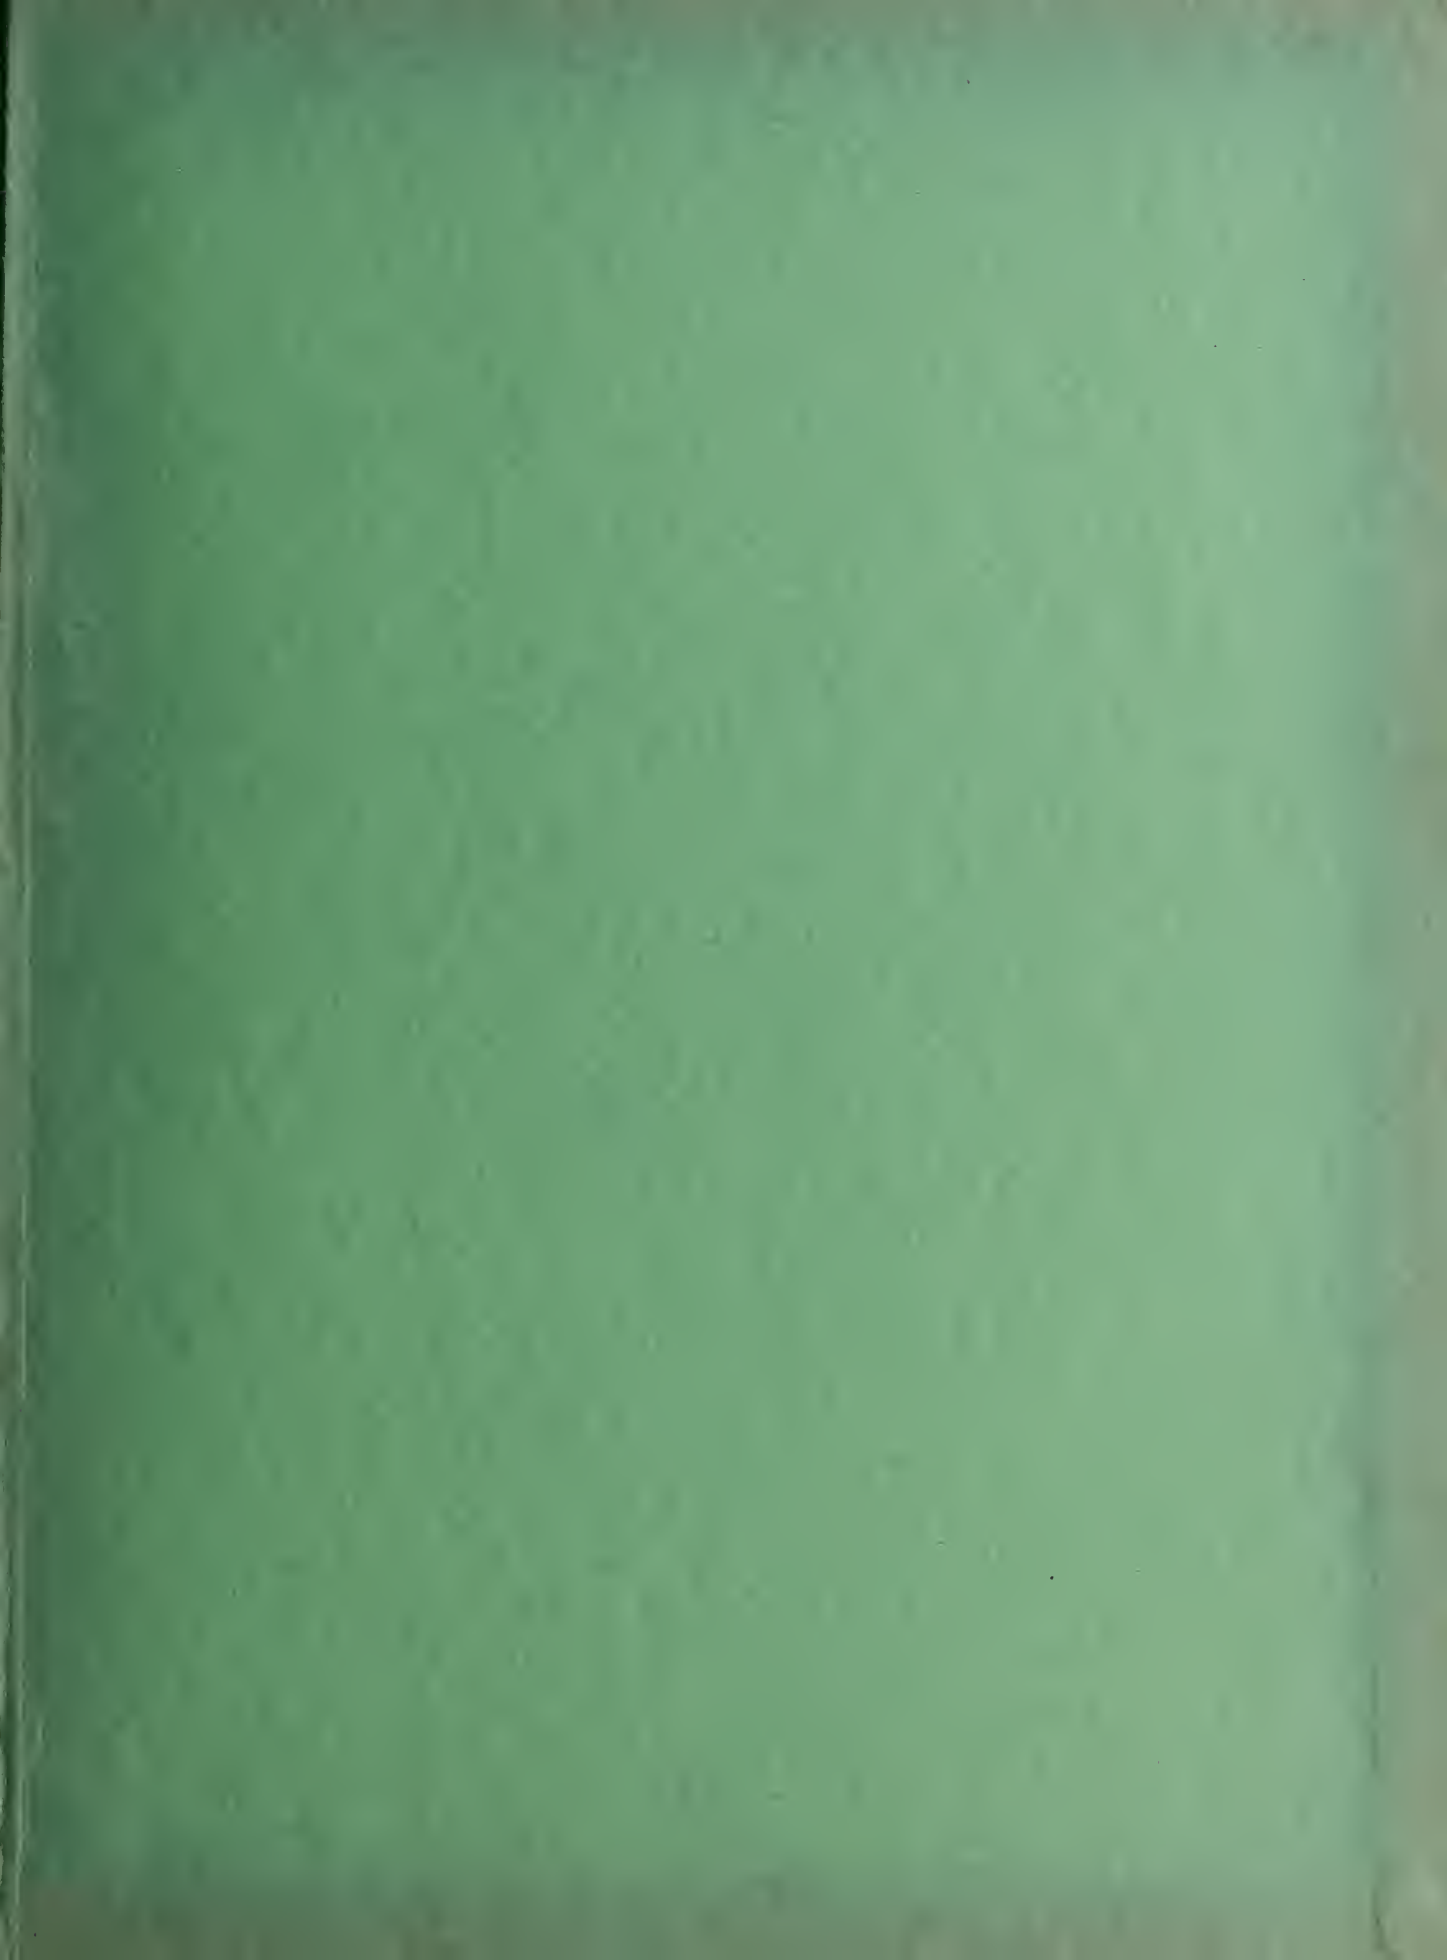

Such able coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
